I'm writing regarding the petition on Eternity fragrance. I am a 33 year old woman who has been disabled with Multiple Chemical Sensitivities for 4 years. When I am put into contact with fragranced products, they severely affect my health. I experience headache, burning of the mucous membranes, neurological and cognitive problems, asthma symptoms, and muscle aches, to mention a few of the most troublesome symptoms. I sincerely hope you will take strong and appropriate action regarding labeling this product as well as other future requests for appropriate labeling. Fragranced products, like cigarette smoking, affect not just the person using the product, but all who come into contact with them. I can be affected by residual fragrance chemicals which linger on my husband's clothing when he comes home from work, sometimes even after several washings. I am also 4 months pregnant, and must be concerned with my unborn child's health as well as my own. I cannot stress enough how important it is for appropriate testing and labeling to become standard operating procedure. Please take those of us with health concerns about these chemicals seriously.

Sincerely,

Sheryl Bourke
